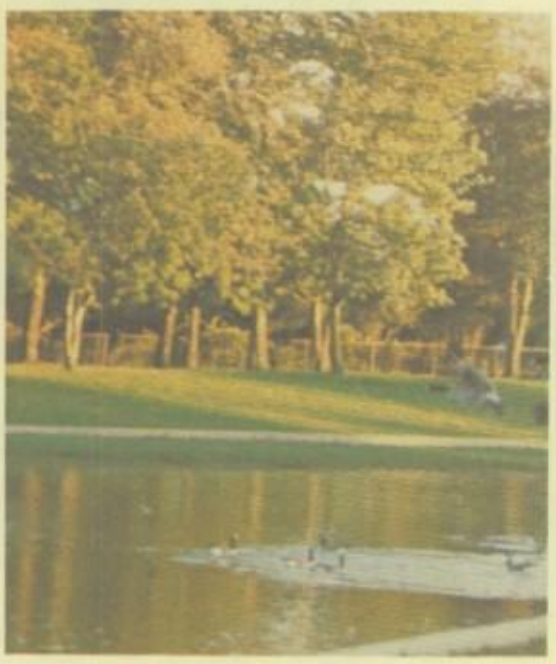
Across the morning sky
all the birds are leaving



Ah, how can they know
it's time for them to go?

Before the winter fire we'll still be dreaming

Who knows where the time goes?

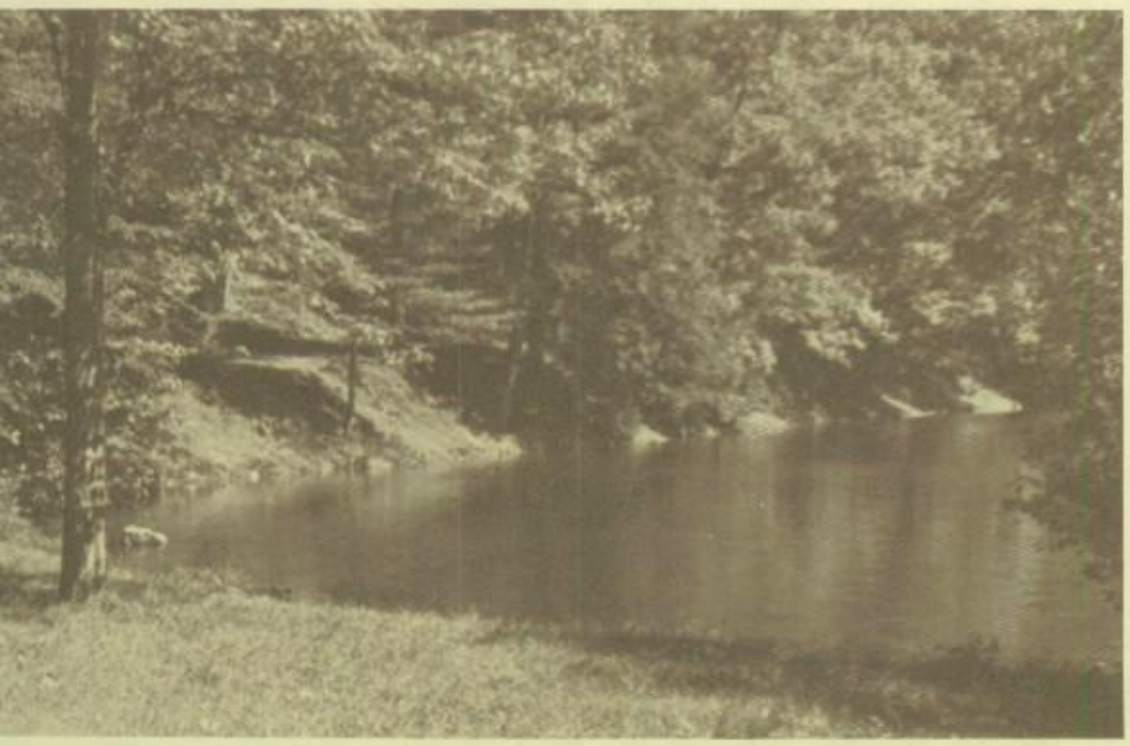
Sad, deserted shores,
your fickle friends are leaving



Ah, but then you know

It's time for them to go

So come the storms of winter,
and the birds of spring again

I do not fear the time
I who knows where the time goes!

Dedication

Who knows where the time goes? Was it really six years ago that we came to Elmont Memorial High School as scared little seventh graders? Where were we to find help through the six year maze stretching in front of us? Dr. Morrongiello, as our class advisor, stepped into our confusion and quickly organized our little group into a hard working, successful board. How can we forget our first fund raising drive and the enthusiasm that Dr. Morrongiello instilled in us? Didn't you get hit in the hall by a bustling seventh grader loaded up to his ears with boxes of Miss Chocolate candies? Then, of course, came the Chinese Auctions. For Dr. Morrongiello this meant storing up hundreds of empty cans in his basement. Even when we weren't involved in an actual fund drive, Dr. Morrongiello was setting up candy sales. Well, now it's our senior year. How Dr. Morrongiello has managed to keep his warmth and dedication toward the class is a wonder to us. With all the confusion of the Senior Dinners, Basketball games, Jr.Sr. Day and the prom, Dr. Morrongiello has managed to keep things amazingly organized. There's no way to thank him enough for all that he's done for us. It is to this honest, warm-hearted, indefatiguable man, who helped make our high school years so memorable, that we dedicate our yearbook.

Well we finally made it. I want to thank you so much for helping me out on test even if we did fail! I'll never forget you or the good times in Schlemans Joe & Hannum

Dear Seniors:

Throughout the ages mankind has been intrigued by your theme for this year's Olympian, "Time." Three thousand years ago, Solomon wisely pointed out, "To everything there is a season" and a proper time for all things. To this the Roman philosopher-emperor, Marcus Aurelius, added, "Time is a river of passing events, aye, a rushing torrent."

The Class of 1976 dons its caps and gowns in a year in which we commemorate two hundred years of American history. In the beginning of that period the founding fathers cried out that they lived in "times that tried men's souls." Although some find it fashionable to point to the mistakes and weaknesses of previous generations, it should be obvious to all that we owe a tremendous debt to those whose hard work and sacrifices enable us to enjoy the benefits of a society which provides both civil liberties and an advanced technology. As have its predecessors, your generation will pay a share of that debt by assuming a productive role in society and by providing an always improving educational system for its children.

A competent Olympian staff has recorded some of the highlights of your school experience. In the years to come you will leaf through the pages of this yearbook nostalgically, somewhat surprised at how much both you and the world have changed. I hope you will recall your high school years as a time for dreams, a time for work, and, above all, a time for preparation for a responsible and productive future.

May I take this opportunity to wish you well on behalf of the Board of Education. This is our time to be confident in your competence, proud of your achievements and convinced of your future success.

Class of 1976:

The ballyhoo and the red — white — and blue commercialism of the bicentennial year should not obscure the significance of this great event. It serves as a vivid year-long reminder of our proud heritage, of the uses of history, and of the continuum of past, present, and future. This last purpose is highlighted as the theme of this year's Olympian. It is an especially apt choice for a class which is graduating on the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of the nation.

The flow of time in the direction of the future is steady and relentless. Time lost can never be recaptured. Each passing moment is unique and irretrievable, but its effects can be long- lasting. In the history of individuals as well as nations there are bright intervals that stand out as watersheds and shape a lifetime.

Though the high school years are brief, the experience can leave an indelible impression. Since time is the measure of change, the significance of the Elmont experience far exceeds its duration. For this special period has seen the growth of knowledge, the maturity of judgement, the formation of character. Clock and calendar tell time as a quantity. But these important changes in personal development impart a quality to the Elmont years that insure its lasting value.

Take with you a respect for your incomparable past, a commitment to make much of the present, and an abiding faith — shared by America's founding fathers — in the possibilities of creating a better future.

Building

Dear Seniors:

Do you realize that many of us spend a major portion of our lives waiting for events or things to occur? We wait for lights to change and bells to ring. We wait for our paychecks. We wait for vacations. We wait for our governmental leaders to make laws. We wait for the economy to improve. We wait for an improved condition for all mankind. The list is endless and I am sure that each one of you can think of things for which you are personally waiting or hoping.

Your yearbook theme centers on the passage of time. In this Bicentennial Year, it is most significant to note that those who were responsible for the establishment of our Republic achieved a balance between waiting and action. They knew when it was prudent to wait, but they also knew when it was proper to act. Their action of 200 years ago changed the world.

How will you spend your time?

The old days of "Sit up straight, spit out the gum, and memorize this list of predicate nominatives!" are gone. English has become a more relevant subject. The emphasis has changed from memorization to understanding the subject matter and how it reflects in life. Along with the famous works usually studied, contemporary works and films are brought into the curriculum to attract the students' interest. English is getting better every day.

Students smothered by formulas and drowning in theorems may have their doubts about our Math Department, but is it really one of the best around. Where else can seniors become insane because they are trying to learn college calculus in high school? But if calculus isn't your speed the Math Department offers such programs as remedial, individualized, computer, and Columbia math studies. In Elmont, there is a math course suited to everyone.

If it's green or it wiggles, it is BIOLOGY;

Our science department constantly gives its students an opportunity to experience new adventures. Where else could you dissect a pig, make a chemical explosion, and draw so many parabolas that everything in the world seems to look like a funny sort of curve? That's right, only here in Elmont's science department. But, truly, it is an excellent department with fantastic teachers, and the knowledge that we have gained throughout the years is appreciated very much.

Oh come now — you can't seriously believe that the Suez Canal leads to New Jersey!

The Social Studies faculty is forever straightening out little misconceptions about people and places that the students believe. They introduce their classes to various cultures and, by making them understand other people, they wipe out many prejudices that form because of social ignorance. Elmont's Social Studies Department is putting its emphasis on world-wide unity.

Art

Along the hall near the main office there is a display of the many artistic creations of Elmont students. They range from highly creative fashion design drawings to attractive ceramic dishes of varying sizes. Although the quality of these projects varies, the enthusiasm that is put into each one is always evident. That's because our Art Department encourages everyone to put out his best even if the artist is not a potential Picasso. "As the sun colors flowers, so does art color life."

Music

Elmont's Music Department offers many opportunities to develop talent. Whether you are a vocal virtuoso, or not, you can join the chorus. If rock or jazz is your thing then stage band is for you. If the sound of crying violins makes your heart weep joyously, then the orchestra is waiting. And if you like playing show tunes or classics, then Elmont's band is the group for you. All of this talent displayed bi-annually at concerts. Many thanks to the Music Department for bringing the sounds of music into the halls of Elmont.

Girls' Physical Education

Under the chairmanship of Mrs Popella the Girls' Physical Education Department has been expanding its curriculum to please everyone. Aside from the usual favorites such as huffing and puffing around the track, groaning through sit-ups, the department now offers activities like tennis, bowling, archery, and modern dance. Keeping physically fit is an enjoyable experience at Elmont.

Industrial Arts

Have you ever seen someone walking down the hall, not carrying books, but instead a slab of wood or some coat hangers? Don't be alarmed; they are probably on their way to industrial arts. There, as if by magic, that slab of wood will turn into a table and the coat hanger into a covered wagon. Industrial arts is imaginative as well as useful.

If you have ever walked down the corridor and wondered what on earth you were smelling — wonder no more. Chances are you were being exposed to the unique aroma created by a beginning home economics class.

Learning the necessary skills for fine cooking and sewing is what Home Ec is all about. Many of the courses use textbooks, but most of the learning is done through actual attempts by the students at successful homemaking under the guidance of a very able department ..... You sewed how many legs on those pants?!!?

Business

The Business Department is the only department which graduates its students with the ability to be immediately employed in a skilled job. Typing, shorthand, transcription, bookkeeping, and Office Practice are among the basic skills taught. Business math, accounting, and business law are also offered. Business in Elmont, is certainly booming.

There was a time when learning materials meant books only. We still have two libraries with a wealth of materials for those last minute research papers. However, for the last few years, we at Elmont have also been able to view filmstrips, listen to tapes and enjoy all the other stimulants that a good media center has to offer.

Language

Because it is so easy today to travel from one part of the world to the other, it is very important that people of all nations are able to understand each other. Not only does Elmont's Language Department teach students to speak various languages, they also introduce them to foreign cultures. The annual Foreign Language Festival offers music, dance, and food (prepared by the students themselves), from all over the world. It is enjoyed enormously. Learning a language at Elmont is becoming more and more fun.

ACTIVITIES

The Class of '76, with the assistance of Dr. Morrongiello, has become one of the most recognized classes of Elmont. Our annual "Chinese Auction" — a great fund raiser and the Senior Dinners are only two of the numerous activities which have been held to involve all the members of our class. Each year the number of people working with the Board has grown, an indication of the success of our class. One thing is for sure: the Class of '76 will not be forgotten.

The 1975 Elmont Varsity Football Squad was a unit of spirited ballplayers. Their goal was to be champions and indeed, they performed like champions. Led by Coaches Jack Salerno, Walt Sofsian, and Ed Tranchina, the Spartans were recognized as one of the "top ten" of all squads in Nassau County. Their final record in Nassau Conference VII was 6-1-1, with a second place finish.

Leading the "Elmont eleven" were Captains Rich Quartuccio, Tom Dickson, and Jim Zaffuto. Team awards went to Rich Quartuccio, who was chosen as Most Valuable Player; Paul Monticciolo, who was named the Most Improved Player; and Joe Annonio, who was given the Spartan Spirit Award for his hustle and determination.

Tennis

One of the truly unheralded fall teams is the Varsity Tennis team. In years past the team was coached by Mr. Snizek who retired at the end of last year. The job of coach shifted to the hands of Mr. Dave Geddes. Mr. Geddes brought a new vitality and a freshness to Elmont tennis. Through his intense enthusiasm for the sport and his fine coaching ability, Mr. Geddes was able to mold the string octet into a fine tennis machine. The team was drilled hard and team members worked diligently all season long to turn last year's 3-7 record into this year's 7-5 record, a fine reversal in trend. Under the guidance of Mr. D. Geddes, a wonderful person and a great coach, the Elmont Tennis team had an excellent season.

This year's Varsity Cheerleaders have proved to be a welcomed addition to every football and basketball game. The girls on the squad have generated much enthusiasm through their spirited cheers and desire to promote school spirit. They have demonstrated a genuine concern for all of Elmont's teams and have actively supported them through posters, decorated locker rooms, and their excellent baking abilities. Being an Elmont Cheerleader is a unique experience, combining long hours of practice with the fun and excitement of the games. Elmont should be proud of the fine job done by these girls who helped rally all our athletic teams to a successful and enjoyable year.

When this year's Varsity Soccer Team assembled for the first practice of the year, both spirits and hopes were high. They proved, by the end of the season, that indeed, they have come a long way. Playing in a tough Division IV against such teams as Lynbrook, Valley Stream South, and South Side, Elmont continually showed that it could play against the best in the league, as they were provided with excellent leadership on and off the field by Captains Mitch Guttentag, Mickey Tierney, and Mike Kaufman who helped the team immensely. After a successful 5-5-2 league record, Elmont was honored with the selection of Mike Kaufman to the All League and All County Teams. Mickey Tierney, also, was selected to the All League Team, and was voted the Most Improved Player of this year's team.

Over many years, Elmont has had tradition of producing many fine cross country teams and individual performers. But the 1975 Elmont Varsity Cross Country squad was the best in the school's history. Coached by Mr. Bob Camien, the Spartan harriers were undefeated in SSAL III league competition with a 9-0 record. In major meets at Sunken Meadow State Park, the Elmont "line" placed second in both the Suffolk Coaches' Invitational and St. Anthony's meets. Elmont's performances were spectacular in the post-season championship meets — where it counted the most. By being first place champions in the South Shore, Nassau County "C", and State qualifying meets, the Spartans were designated as the number one ranked Cross Country squad in Nassau County. Although as a team Elmont didn't do well in the New York State and Federation meets, individuals such as James Marino, tom rozea, and Jim boehm excelled. Leading the "Spartan Seven" was senior Captain, Jim Marino. Jim had the honor to be named to the All-County first team. Throughout the season, Jimmy was consistently among the top finishers in each one of the major meets he competed in. His best performance was a sixth place finish in the State meet at Buffalo. Two other runners who excelled for Elmont by making the All-County second team were junior, Jim Boehm, and sophomore, Tom Rozea. Another senior who starred was Doug Goff who was named to the All-South shore team. These four runners were the nucleus of the squad along with seniors Allen Rozea, Pete Hoffman, David Holman, and Kevin Casey who all contributed greatly to the total championship effort with their fine running.

Varsity Field Hockey

Elmont has had a reputation for producing outstanding field hockey teams and this year's Varsity and J.V. teams were no exception. Led by Coach Joanna Commander, the Varsity combined an aggressively talented offense with a powerful defense for a winning season of 6 wins, 1 loss and 1 scoreless tie. Through hard work and dedication, the team finished third in an extremely competitive league.

The Varsity Volleyball team, under the guidance of Coach Eileen Dwyer, finished their season with a record of 1 win, 6 losses. Their record is not a true indication of the talent present on the team. All the players worked hard and should be commended for their strong efforts. The J.V. team had a more impressive record of 5 wins, 2 losses and displayed great potential for the future.

The 1975-76 Elmont Varsity Basketball team played the best basketball seen at Elmont in the past six years. Winning the District Christmas tournament and qualifying for the Nassau County Championship playoffs were the pre-season goals that were turned into realities by Coach Don Laux's tenacity.

In defeating New Hyde Park and crushing a playoff bound Floral Park's team in the Christmas tournament Elmont brought the championship trophy back to Elmont and established District bragging rights for the up and coming year.

A more difficult task awaited — making the playoffs in Long Island's toughest division. When the smoke had cleared, Elmont was in the championship playoffs against Hempstead.

Along the way came some moments that Elmont followers will not soon forget. In a near miracle the Spartans held East Rockaway to a single point and won the game in overtime. In another must win game Elmont put it all together against Valley Stream South and blasted its way into the playoffs with a 35 point victory.

Everybody contributed to this team's success. Graduating seniors Richie Stroface (an All-League unanimous selection), Mike Korsiak (Christmas tournament M.V.P.), Dan (the Spark) Winters, Phil Murphy and Bobby Krioski set five examples of team play and dedication for the underclassmen of the team.

Returning next year will be Joe Delutri, Vinnie Macchio, Joe Castelanetta, Richie Sherman, and Harvey Allen.

Playing in the championship playoffs at Hofstra was the climax of a season that was rewarding and fun for players and coaches alike. Congratulations to a very fine basketball team.

Indoor Track is normally a slow season for any track team. But out of the darkness that normally prevails in the winter months came a nucleus of runners that have been missing for the past few years. As always James Marino provided the team with good strong running in the Two Mile. Behind him came another senior Kevin Casey, who has turned into a excellent two miler in less than one year, a most notable achievement. Senior Mike Litras was Elmont's only sprinter, yet he became one of the finalists in the Nassau County Championships. Junior Jim Boehm provided the team with fireworks by taking fourth place in the two mile relay team. But the real star of that relay was Pete Hoffman. He lifted the team single handedly into a better position than they had hoped for.

Twirlers

Football and basketball halftimes just wouldn't be the same without a performance from Elmont's tantalizing Twirlers. Batons twirl effortlessly through the air when the girls perform their original routines. The Twirlers always seem to turn hours of hard work and practice into an enjoyable performance.

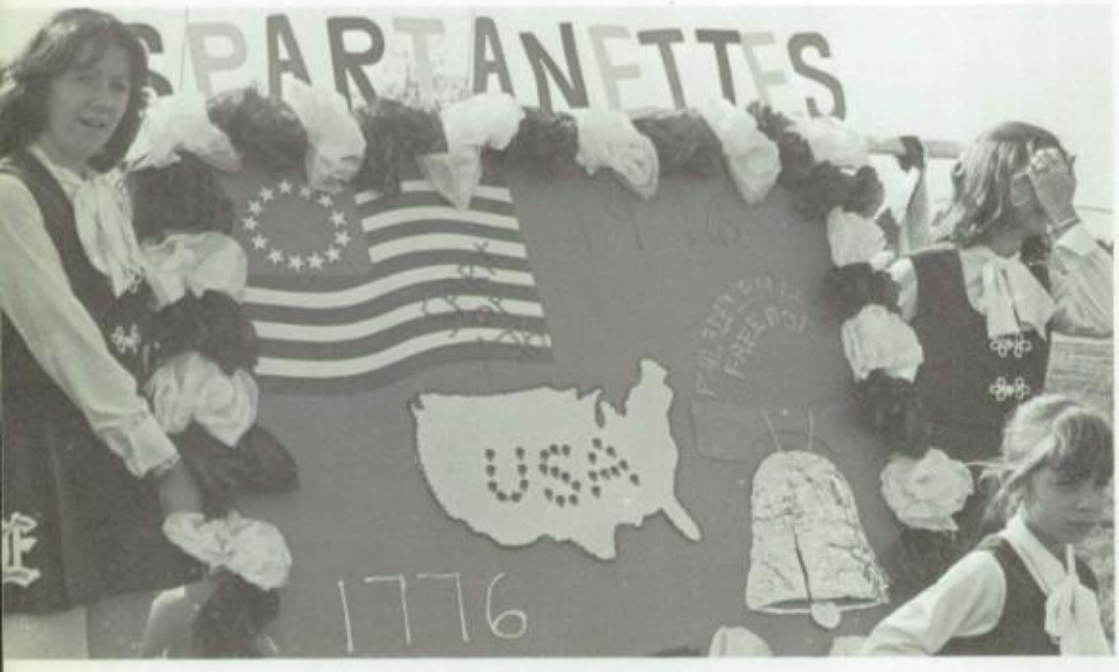
Spartanettes



The celebration of America's Bicentennial has made this an especially memorable year for the Elmont Spartanettes. The squad often performs to musical arrangements conveying the Americana theme. The nation's birthday was also the subject of the Spartanettes prize winning banner on Homecoming Day. The Spartanettes dedicate much time and effort into choreographing and learning their halftime dance routines for both the football and basketball seasons. Precision is of utmost importance, and each routine contains a combination of intricate dance steps. The girls on the squad take pleasure in their dancing, and hope to bring a smile or two to our sports spectators. They try to transmit a feeling of school spirit to support Elmont's teams.

The 1975-1976 season was without question the most outstanding wrestling season in Elmont's history. Competing in an extremely competitive league, the Elmont matmen completed the season with an 8-3-2 record; a record more successful than any other year. Fine coaching, sheer determination, and an enormous will to win among the wrestlers were without a doubt the reasons behind such success. Perhaps another addition to such a great year was the enthusiasm of the crowds.

In the Division 3 Tournament, Elmont placed 3rd out of 8 schools. Elmont wrestlers who gained individual honors in the tournament were as follows: Joe Commerton, 1st place, 91 lbs.; Norm Rabin, 2nd place, 98 lbs.; Howard Rabin, 1st place, 114 lbs.; Danny Levine, 2nd place, 119 lbs.; Paul Monticciolo, 4th place, 145 lbs.; and Steve Steinberg, 2nd place, 177 lbs.

These 6 young men will be competing in the Nassau County Championships.

Gymnastics

Gymnastics is a sport which requires its athletes to be proficient in area of agility, grace, strength and creativity. Elmont's gymnasts, under the guidance of Mrs. Linker, have proved to be quite capable of these qualities. The girls practice long hard hours to perfect their routines and floor exercises, balance beam, uneven parallel bars and vaulting. With a fairly young team the Spartans are hoping for a championship season in the near future.

One can say the 1976 Elmont Varsity Lacrosse Squad is invincible. Except for one non-league loss, the Spartan stickmen are undefeated and have overwhelmed all of their league opponents. Names like Zaffuto, Annonio, Castellaneta, Hunter, Scarangella, Meirdiercks, and Steffen make the offense roll in high gear by scoring many goals. Defensively, players such as Quartuccio, Fini, Macchio, Mocerino, Walsh and goalie Mueller, are why the Spartans are aggressive.

An indication of Elmont Lacrosse supremacy throughout Nassau County is their repeated top ranking in the Lacrosse "top ten" week after week.

LEADER CORPS

White uniforms, whistles, squeaky new sneakers,
Assignments, meetings, opportunity seekers,
Inductions, sophs, Pawling, and such,
To be in Leader Corps means so much;
Spotting on bars and then on the beam,
Sports after school, we belong to a team,
Hockey, volleyball, basketball, too,
Softball, gymnastics, we're never through;
Free period sit in the Leader Corps room,
A little untidy, then get out the broom,
Sit, relax, and then when your're through,
Your Leader's assignment is waiting for you;
Get into your uniform, run up the stairs,
All eyes are on you, so many pairs,
Demonstrate a foul shot if you will,
The class is silent, the teacher is still,
You missed, it was an excellent try
The coach is there, you're ready to die;
You've come to the end of a wonderful day
You've learned to live the Leader Corps way.

The first goal of the 1976 baseball team was a ticket to the playoffs. The second was to advance as far into the playoffs as possible. Determination, along with a team loaded with talented players, made these goals seem realistic.

The team was composed basically of seniors who anxiously awaited the season to prove that Elmont is a powerhouse in baseball. The starting nine were Fred Giumenta, doing the catching chores; Ron "Bernie" Bernstein, the first sacker; Bob Krioski, at second; Gordie Kerr at short; and Tony Nostramo at the Hot Corner. The outfield was led by Lance DeMille (two time All League), Andy Doherty and Paul Cortese. The pitching staff was outstandingly deep and strong with the likes of Norm Fowler, Jim Cortright, Tony Sectuccio, and Danny Winters who shared the starting duties. They were backed by Doug Shukri and Andy Doherty.

Being a close knit team provided that extra incentive to win. No one will forget the two-run home run by Fred Giumenta in the bottom of the seventh which gave Elmont a thrilling come-from-behind win and started them on their way to a very successful year.

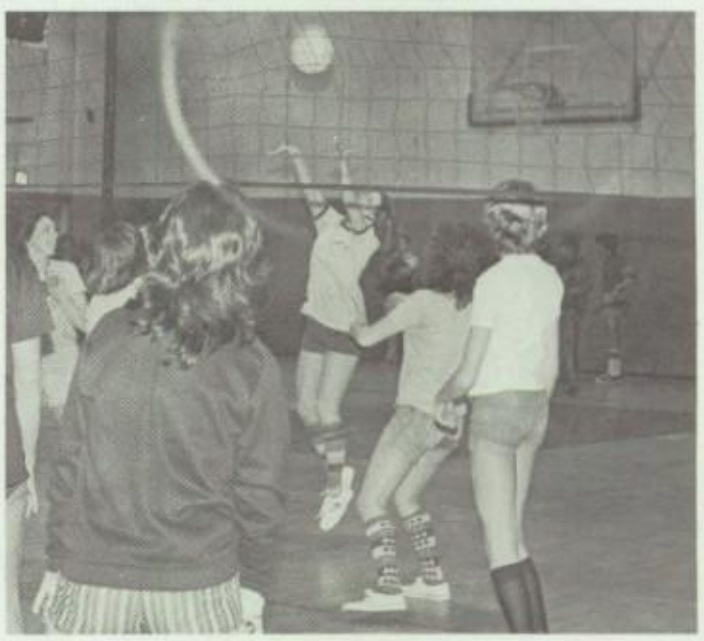
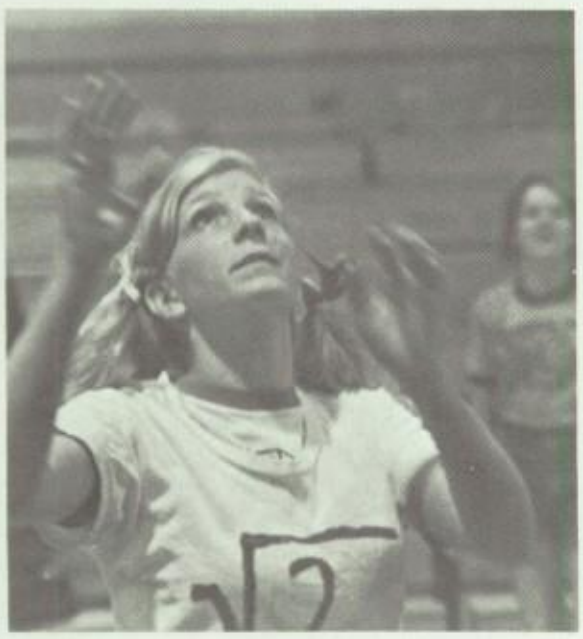
Junior — Senior Day





Spring Track

Over the past few years Elmont has been building up a stronger track program. It has been shown through the past years with Elmont's record steadily improving. As with any team, leadership is important.

The Spartans have had tremendous leadership starting with the coaches. Coaches Camien and Barrie have helped mature and mould the team into one capable of championship performance. But, just as important, is the leadership among the team members. Those who led the team the most through their performance and dedication were seniors James Marino, Peter Hoffman, and Richard Stroface.

James was one of the outstanding runners in Elmont history. He was the first Elmont runner to run the two mile under 9:30. He was also one of Elmont's foremost milers.

Pete Hoffman turned out to be Elmont's leading halfmiler and hurdler. He turned in consistently high performances to help Elmont in its quest for a second place finish in our division. Rich Stroface led the team in the field events by being one of our leading high jumpers.

In the springs, Elmont's Mike Litras's strength in the 100, 220, and 440 were major contributions to the team.

Other leading performers were junior Jim Boehm in the mile, and sophomore Tom Rozea in the two mile and mile.

Some other seniors who contributed to the team were Allen Rozea, Doug Goff, Kevin Casey, Ken Anderson, and Dave Holman, all senior distance runners. Al Seripierio, Scott Sherman, John Orban, and Bill Friedel helped to pull the team through in the field events.

The 1976 spring season turned out to be one of the most rewarding in recent memory.

Alone
(but not lonely)
Feeling down
(but not drowned)
About something
(but there is nothing)
As the day melts away in red orange hues
Leaving, finally, a darker heaven to display,
Brilliant Van Gogh stars
That shine down upon a timeless, desert plain

In Memoriam

John Kelsch
Guy Morlock
Scott Morlock

Looking through some photographs
I found inside a drawer,
I was taken by a photograph of you.
There were one or two I know that you
Would have liked a little more,
But they didn't show your spirit quite as true.

Fountain of sorrow, fountain of life,
And it's good to see your smiling face tonight.

Thanks

And
The Senior Board for all their support.

Special thanks to Kai Quong Moy whose heart touched every page of this book and extra special thanks to Mrs. Murray whose enthusiasm and patience has touched us all forever . . .

Before us all there lies a journey,
One of time and things to come;
And I hope through all the seasons
That I shall grow in strength and love.

In times that pass I will grow older,
But that's the same for you and me.
But in those years I will find comfort
In my friends and in my dreams.

So with one step we shall go forward,
And by our side the past will stand.
But we can take those memories with us
Through the years and times we span.

So let this book and all these pages
Hold for us a special hope,
Of times that passed but still are golden,
Memories are never lost.
